

CORONAVIRUS DISEASE (COVID-19): protecting the vulnerable

Between 01 and 28 February 2021, with support of WHO:

77
health workers trained on surveillance, case management and infection prevention and control

103 608
households visited by the community health workers (CHWs) for case finding

23 236
samples tested for COVID-19

497 423
people reached out by CHWs with risk communication messages

1 100
sample collection kits distributed to all federal member states

2 409
community health workers deployed for case finding and contact tracing

119
samples transported and shipped from inaccessible areas

73
rapid response teams deployed for field investigation and sample collection

55 920
facemasks distributed to all federal member states

102
alerts of COVID-19 investigated

1 200
Sets of full PPEs distributed to federal member states

10
isolation centers supported for patient care

22 931
suspected cases investigated

3
new risk communication messages developed and translated in Somali language

Our operational response to COVID-19 is supported by: